ULTIMATE ZOOM GAMES

INJECT SOME FUN INTO YOUR NEXT ZOOM MEETING

With these 3 quick, simple and entertaining games to engage your virtual team!

GUESS THE OFFICE

Corporate CHALLENGE Events
Est. 1994

- To correctly guess which team member each photo belongs to.

WHAT YOU NEED

- A smart device, laptop or PC per person
- Internet connection
- An email address
- Access to Zoom or a webinar platform

HOW IT WORKS

- Prior to the Zoom catch up, have your team members send a photo of their home offices. Share your screen and have everyone guess whose workspace is whose. Keep the game going with photos of everyone's coffee mugs, desktop backgrounds, or the view outside their window.

OUTCOMES

- This activity targets team bonding, connection, fun and is also a great icebreaker!

AND THE WINNER IS...

The individual that correctly guesses the owner of the most photos.

BACK TO THE DRAWING BOARD

OBJECTIVE

- To successfully draw all of the images allocated the fastest.

WHAT YOU NEED

- A smart device, laptop or PC per person
- Internet connection
- An email address
- Access to Zoom (ensure chat, private chat and screen share is activated in settings)

HOW IT WORKS

- Nominate the first drawer and a timekeeper.
- Send a private chat to the drawer with the words of the images they are required to draw for their team mates.
- Activate whiteboard. To use Zoom's whiteboard feature, you will need to click the 'Share Screen' button located in your meeting toolbar, select the whiteboard and click share. You should then see the annotation tools that will let you use your mouse to draw. There is an option to allow other users to annotate, ensure that is activated.

RULES

- You must not verbally communicate or spell out words/letters.
- You can only draw the objects allocated to you.

VARIATIONS

- If you only want one person to have access to the whiteboard at one time, you can take turns sharing the screen's whiteboard depending who's turn it is.
- You can customise the objects based on your meeting theme or a particular topic of choice.
